

I am filing a comment in regards to the proposal to make radio stations record and save their on-air programs. Although there are some markets that have crossed the line in what should and should not be on the air this proposal would place a huge burden on the thousands of radio stations that serve their communities interests. Our stations, which are in a very small market, would have to purchase new equipment just to record the programs, placing even more financial burden on us in times that are not so good. We would also have to find room to store these recordings in quarters that are already tight. I would hope the commision would see the many flaws in this proposal.
